

WHAT DO I NEED? A PALLET OR A DECK?

Pallets ●

- Provide large-volume sump capacity
- Help you comply with containment regulations
- Are easy to transport with a forklift
- Have a small footprint that takes up less floor space

Choose a pallet

- If you need full containment for 55-gallon drums to meet regulations
- If you need to move the containment unit with a forklift

Decks ●

- Are low profile and easier to load than pallets
- Provide easy access to drum pumps and funnels
- Are great for housekeeping when containment isn't an issue
- Can be easily configured to match your floor plan

Choose a deck

- To catch drips and leaks under drums and other containers when you don't need full containment to comply with regs
- To create a drum storage and dispensing area that doesn't need to be moved
