Rubber-backed mats are expensive, labor-intensive slip and trip hazards that don’t really keep your facility clean.

RUBBER-BACKED MATS SHIFT AND SLIDE.
Rubber-backed mats creep when people walk on them or carts roll over them. So when they shift out of position, you have to waste time all day long putting them back where they belong.

RUBBER-BACKED MATS BUNCH UP AND CREATE WAY, RIPPLED EDGES.
Rubber-backed mats don’t lay flat. Rippled edges cause trips and falls, jam under doors, and hang up carts and pallet jacks.

WATER CAN’T SPREAD OUT ON RUBBER-BACKED MATS, SO IT PUDDLES ON TOP.
When water collects on a rubber-backed mat, it gets tracked in and makes your floor slippery and dangerous. The mat slips next because the water can’t spread out and dry up. And since you can’t use a wet vac, your only option is to drag out another mat.

STOP FIGHTING WITH RUBBER-BACKED MATS

Rubber-backed mats are expensive, labor-intensive slip and trip hazards that don’t really keep your facility clean.

RUBBER-BACKED MATS SHIFT AND SLIDE.
Rubber-backed mats creep when people walk on them or carts roll over them. So when they shift out of position, you have to waste time all day long putting them back where they belong.

RUBBER-BACKED MATS BUNCH UP AND CREATE WAVY, RIPPLED EDGES.
Rubber-backed mats don’t stay flat. Rippled edges cause trips and falls, jam under doors, and hang up carts and pallet jacks.

WATER CAN’T SPREAD OUT ON RUBBER-BACKED MATS, SO IT PUDDLES ON TOP.
When water collects on a rubber-backed mat, it gets tracked in and makes your floor slippery and dangerous. The mat slips next because the water can’t spread out and dry up. And since you can’t use a wet vac, your only option is to drag out another mat.
